WHAT IS A WITCH HOUSE WEBZINE WITHOUT
POST SOME DARK WITCH COMPOSERS?

HERE ARE THE MOST CREATIVE ON THE SCENE

*not all is Alice Glass, Grimes & Nastya Kreslina, there's other artists inside the WH Scene who deserve your attention.

MIZERO aka JENNY JUMBLE

<https://mizero.bandcamp.com/>

<https://jennyjumble.bandcamp.com/>

Dark Pop, Witch House, experimental electronic producer from US.

Formerly known as Jenny Jumble. Is a goth electronic artist with a lot of witch house dark trap tracks on her bandcamp and soundcloud pages.
Since 2020 she changed her artist name to MIZERO.

WIVRESSE / AKA BISSECTA DE KINSAME

<https://soundcloud.com/wivresse2>

<https://archive.org/details/@bissecta>

Experimental, sound art, ritual ambient artist from Montpellier, France.

A very prolific and collaborative artist, who make witch ambient soundscapes, with ritual and new age atmospheres. Not tagged really as a witch house producer.

But in essence her music totally dig into the scene. Her full discography can be found at the internet archive music platform, with hundred of tracks in a lot of different music genres.

MARA5

Ritual, Dark Ambient, Witch House project created by MAHR.

Active since 2011 to 2014.

Founder of the inactive and legendary label: "PALE NOIR".

Currently she run the another dark music label called: "Hypogeum Records"

Money, money, money..... the eternal necessity for survive. If we focus this to art the thing is very complex and if we direct this to underground not massive music , all these becomes too much difficult yet.

Maybe if you try to copy to some of the most played artists on the scene, maybe you can reach a decent number of listeners and gain a couple of dollars. The emulation of SidewalkandSkeletoons, Crystal Castles and Ic3peak sometimes will give you some profit. All this accompanied with a very good artist cover artwork designs, professional pictures of the band, or solitary project, good promotion of course.

But.....if you try all this thing, making the original WH style, we mean with the experimental, ethereal, weird slow beat vaporgoth vibes, the answer is very simple: "don't waste your time, either try this".

Love to art, that is the center and conclusion. Most people don't care listen deep and cavernous weird music. They want to have casual sex, go to parties, dance, experiment with drugs and almost all that things that the 90% of humanity likes.

So witch house is part of the current pop culture? yes. Initially was thinking and focused on be part of it. Using and turning pictures of famous celebrities into zombies and ghosts. Inspiring the music on classic horror 80's and 70's Giallo films.

The same thing that Vaporwave does, but in the case of WH, with a dark, weirdcore tone.

But one thing is be part of the pop culture, and the other side is think that you can really be famous or make money beign a witch house producer.

Existing so many music genres who really have too much more listeners and followers than witch house like: Trap, Dark Wave, EBM, Synthwave, etc etc..... If you are looking profit.....and you believe that all the views and likes of the WH music mixes on youtube are real and aren't bots.....well is your decision. But this genre will continue beign underground always, no matter if there's labels who create panties, cups, hats and other things trying to make money with WH.

You must love horror movies, collages, witchcraft, symbology, ritual music. All these little kids fans of crystal castles and ic3peak, don't know nothing about the history of the genre, they don't know what is a true witch house ritual atmospheric track. They run scared is you put it to listen a full album of Mater Suspiria Vision. Most of they only want to dance on parties and try to be part of something, the new emo sub aesthetic is now: NU-GOTH.

So the conclusion on this is: you can be part of the pop culture, make something pop with a weird artistic inspiration, but don't try to live and eat with this kind of art. This is only an expression of yourself. If you truly love dark ritual soundscapes, love collage horror movie stuff, Witch House is for you. And instead if you only are searching claim the attention of your parents or your friends, maybe you must consider be goth, trade goth, death rocker or be part of the black metal scene.....
